SWICK WINES (NEWBERG, OR)

Owner Joe Swick is a 5th generation Oregonian, born and raised in Portland. He worked his first harvest in 2003 in Oregon, and from then until 2012 he worked 15 different harvests, traveling all over the world as far as Tasmania, France, Portugal, and Italy. Joe returned Oregon in 2013 to start Swick Wines in the Willamette Valley. He works only with sustainable or organically farmed vineyards that are not irrigated, from cooler climate locations.

2017 Grenache Blanc Columbia Valley AVA

The 5th most common white grape planting in France, Grenache Blanc is typically found in white blends from the Rhone region. Per the winemaker's approach, this wine is given minimal handling & displays the fruit's unique herbaceous & citrusy character. Made from sustainably farmed organic grapes.

2016 Riesling 1976 Block Medici Vineyard • Willamette Valley AVA

"Joe Swick found a block of Riesling vines that were planted in 1976, right when Oregon was starting to take off in the international wine world, and those vines produce the wine in Swick's 1976 Block Riesling--and if this beautiful bottle doesn't change your mind about the ability of this grape, then I figure nothing will. Fresh, with just the right hit of ripe fruit, this Riesling is what the wine world would consider crushable."

FOSSIL & FAWN
(DUNDEE, OR)

Do Nothing 2017 Mondeuse Noir Ribbon Ridge AVA

Fossil & Fawn is the project of Jim Fischer Jr. and Jenny Mosbacher. Their goal is to make wines that they like. What they've found is that they like wines that are executed with a minimalist, natural approach that allows the vineyard to do the talking.

They offer small production, site-specific wines made in Portland area wineries.

From the winery:

"The fruit for our 2017 vintage of "Do nothing" comes from a lovely organically farmed vineyard just outside of Newberg. This is our first time working with Mondeuse - a grape of extreme rarity in the US. "Do Nothing" is our most serious attempt at being as hands-off as possible in the red winemaking process. The grapes were fermented wholecluster for three weeks. We simply put everything in a bin, sealed it and walked away (hence, 'do nothing'). After the fruit was pressed, it finished fermentation in a combination of French and Oregon oak barrels over the next 5 months. No yeast, nutrients or acid was added. Serve w/ a light chill (around 50°F)."

This Week's In-Store Tastings
